

Informed Consent for Ear Suction

Consent for Treatment

What is micro suction?

Micro suction is a procedure to remove ear wax and/or foreign bodies from the ear canals. Our trained staff, using a direct vision microscope, gently suction the ear.

What are the benefits of micro suction?

This procedure cleans the ear with greater safety compared to ear syringing. It corrects temporary deafness due to blockages and allows successful treatment of external infections.

What are the risks of micro suction?

Minor bleeding and a small risk of perforation to the ear drum may occur due to sudden movement. This can be avoided if you keep as still as possible during the procedure. In some cases, dizziness may occur during or after the procedure. Keeping your eyes open and focusing on an object in front of you may help.

If you find the procedure too uncomfortable, please inform the nurse and the procedure will terminate.
